

Assassination Probe Report Slated June 30

WASHINGTON (AP) — The hearings are over and the findings due within a fortnight, but the Warren commission kept its door ajar today for any belated disclosures on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

If the presidential body headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren meets its timetable, the public will know by June 30 all that the investigative resources of the government could uncover on the Dallas tragedy of last Nov. 22.

President Johnson will receive a report totaling more than 500 pages, supported by transcripts of testimony which are said to rival in bulk the findings of the Pearl Harbor Commission after World War II.

There may be some surprises, commission sources have hinted. But there is no indication

Foreign Aid Debate Brews

President Insists On Full Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's reported insistence that Congress give him every dollar of the $3.5 billion he wants for the foreign-aid program is stirring up a hornet's nest in the House Appropriations Committee.

The present outlook is that the President will win, or come close to victory, when an 11-member subcommittee sits down next week to make the initial money decisions.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., has a history of cutting the aid program, Passman claiming that during his nine years as chairman the cuts have exceeded $8 billion. The House usually sustains Passman's recommendations after they clear the 50-member parent Appropriations Committee.

While Passman and his colleagues have refrained from publicly discussing the controversy, Passman reportedly wants a cut this year of at least $500 million, all of it in economic assistance funds.

The subcommittee is sharply split over whether to uphold Passman or the President.

Passman's difficulty with the subcommittee this year stems in part from the recent death of Rep. Clarence Cannon, Missouri Democrat who headed the full committee and usually supported Passman. Cannon was persuasive with other subcommittee members.

The new chairman of the parent committee is Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., a foreign aid supporter and a close personal friend of the President. Mahon has power to shuffle subcommittee assignments, a maneuver resorted to on occasion by Cannon to punish balking members.

"The chairman has made no threats or even suggestions of them," a committee member said. "But he does not favor deep cuts in the program."

Service Station Bandit Thwarted

IDAHO CITY, Idaho (AP) — Service station owner Ralph Lansing had pumped 30 gallons of gasoline into a pickup truck and cans in the back Thursday when the driver drew a revolver and said: "I'll take the money in the till too."

"What are you, some kind of nut?" Lansing answered.

He continued to talk. The man decided to leave, saying he would forget the holdup but take the gas.

Lansing's son, Jerry, a deputy sheriff, entered the station through a back door, saw what was happening and arrested the man who gave him the name as John Hennrich, 19, Culver, Wash.

Scranton Set For Whirlwind Kentucky Tour

24 Uncommitted Delegates Sought By Goldwater Foe

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, back from a whirlwind tour of the Midwest, today heads for Kentucky in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Scranton's immediate object is to capture Kentucky's 24 uncommitted delegate votes at the GOP National Convention.

On the eve of his flying trip to Louisville, Scranton disclosed receipt of a letter of endorsement from Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. The former president himself has remained neutral in the campaign.

Scranton also told a news conference Thursday night that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, his front-running opponent for the nomination, would be defeated by President Johnson if he voted against the compromise civil rights bill nearing a showdown in the Senate.

Scranton's remark came less than a half hour after Goldwater had said on the Senate floor that he planned to vote against the bill. The governor called on the senator to repudiate his stand.

Scranton was asked if he thought, that as a matter of practical politics, Goldwater could be elected president if he voted against civil rights.

"No, I don't," Scranton replied. "I think it would be very difficult."

Scranton, who returned to the state capital early Thursday, ran into a civil rights problem of his own, when demonstrators picketed the Capitol and threatened to picket every stop on his campaign tour unless he did something about alleged state police brutality in a racial incident at Chester in April.

Aides succeeded in delaying action by the demonstrators for a week.

Scranton's campaign staff has arranged an afternoon meeting today at Louisville with Kentucky's 24 uncommitted delegates.

Although 16 of the Kentuckians reportedly lean toward Goldwater, Scranton said he had been told by the state's two Republican senators, Thurston B. Morton and John Sherman Cooper, that conditions would be "extremely favorable" to Scranton on the second ballot at the convention.

At the news conference Scranton said he welcomed Dr. Eisenhower's support "wholeheartedly."

"If elected, I will name him an advisor on foreign policy," the governor added.

Dr. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, in a copy of a letter released to newsmen, said "As an individual I offer you my full support."

Scranton said his first week of campaigning has "met with unusual success, even beyond what he imagined."

He said his assessment has been confirmed by Republican leaders, but he declined to name them.

Scranton refused to assess his own delegate strength. The Associated Press survey gives him 130 to 677 for Goldwater. The number needed for nomination is 655.

"I don't agree with The Associated Press poll," he said. "I don't consider it to be accurate."

Khrush, Krag Expand Trade

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Premier Jens Otto Krag said today he and Soviet Premier Khrushchev have agreed on expansion of Soviet-Danish trade, but remain divided on all main issues of international politics.

Khrushchev looked happy and traded quips with newsmen. A reporter asked him to answer just one question.

"What is one question to the chairman of the Council of Ministers of the Soviet Union?" Khrushchev laughingly replied.

"Formulate 50 questions and I would give you 100 answers."

Krag did most of the talking about their conference. Speaking of world political issues, the government chief of this North Atlantic alliance nation told newsmen, "We could not agree."

CONFESES TO STRANGLING — Joseph Robbins comforts his sobbing wife, Yvonne, after she admitted to police in Indianapolis that she strangled her two-year-old daughter with a strip of bedsheet. She admitted trying to throw investigators off by planting a "hate note" implying that the slaying was motivated by racial hostility, police said.

California Democrats Unified for LBJ's Visit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California Democrats greet President Johnson today in unity, the scars of a bitter party primary healed in an effort to deliver the nation's most populous state to him in November.

As the president heads into a weekend tour, the familiar figure of his former White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger, will be up front with state leaders saying hello. Salinger defeated State Controller Alan Cranston for the Democratic senatorial nomination June 2.

North Japan Jolted by New Quake

NIIGATA, Japan (AP) — Another earthquake rocked this northern port city last night as it struggled with the aftermath of Tuesday's quake — Japan's most violent in 40 years.

Buildings already weakened on Tuesday suffered damage. But there were no immediate reports of new deaths or injuries.

U.S. Air Force planes parachuted another 14 tons of fire fighting chemical foam to Niigata's weary firemen at dusk. A pilot said a block-square storage tank complex on the waterfront was still burning fiercely, shooting flames 300 to 400 feet into the air, as his plane made a pass over the stricken city.

A few minutes before the new quake, Niigata's fire chief said the fire was being contained in the ocean-front refinery area where more than 90 storage tanks went up in flames after Tuesday's quake.

The quake ripped across an 11-prefecture area, killing a known total of 25, injuring more than 400, and leaving thousands homeless.

Senate To Eye National Debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has another urgent piece of business to take up soon after it disposes of the civil rights bill—legislation to raise the national debt ceiling by $9 billion to $324 billion.

The House passed the legislation 203 to 182 Thursday after a stiff partisan battle. Twenty-eight Democrats crossed over, while no Republican backed the debt limit boost, which would apply through June 30, 1965.

Unless the Senate acts by July 1, the debt limit will drop automatically to $285 billion, well below the actual debt. Prompt action is expected.

If Congress fails to act, the Treasury would be forced to halt all borrowing immediately and probably would have to default on some of its obligations within two weeks.

Sgt. York Returned To Nashville Hospital

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Sgt. Alvin York, World War I hero, was brought to a Nashville hospital today for the second time in less than a month. His doctor said York was bleeding badly from the bladder.

The 76-year-old war hero, bedridden for several years after suffering a minor stroke, has been in and out of hospitals here several times in recent years.

Vote on Rights Due by Evening

Barry's Stand On Rights Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's decision to vote against the civil rights bill has triggered a debate on whether he would lose or gain votes in a ballot contest against President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton contends Goldwater's stand means the senator would be unable to defeat Johnson in the presidential election next November.

But a Southern Democrat, Sen. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, says that if Goldwater, front-runner for the GOP nomination, votes against the measure, he could carry the South against the President.

Their reactions came shortly after Goldwater had told the Senate Thursday he is "unalterably opposed to discrimination of any sort" but is opposed to the bill because two sections of it "fly in the face of the Constitution."

He said he feels these two sections — the public accommodations and equal employment titles — are a threat to individual freedoms.

Goldwater is known to feel that the reaction to his decision might knock out of his column some of his Republican National Convention delegates.

But the Arizona senator insisted Thursday he had voted as a matter of principle, not of political expediency.

One possible effect: To underscore the differences between Goldwater and Scranton who is his 11th hour challenger for the nomination.

That is what Scranton has been trying to do since he launched his campaign last Friday. Goldwater concedes that civil rights is one point on which they disagree.

Scranton quickly sought to turn the Goldwater decision into ammunition for his own crusade. In declaring it means

Laos Flies 36 Missions

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The commander of the tiny Laotian air force said today his planes have flown 36 missions against the Communist Pathet Lao in the past week, strafing and bombing military concentrations and troop convoys.

Gen. Thao Ma said 22 of the air strikes were in the Plaine des Jarres, two in the Ban Ban area just northeast of the plain, and 12 along the Ho Chi Minh supply line through southern Laos to South Viet Nam.

The Laotian air force has about a dozen U.S.-built T28 propeller-driven fighter-bombers.

The Pathet Lao radio charged Thursday that "U.S. imperialism and its lackeys again sent six T28 planes to conduct wanton bombing and strafing" of Pathet Lao areas in and around the Plaine des Jarres, 110 miles northeast of Vientiane.

Confidence Yields 10-Day Cycle Trip

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Doug Trent, who says night school taught him self-confidence, arrived in Greensboro Thursday after a 10-day bicycle trip from Chicago.

Trent, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Trent of Chicago, said he averaged 80 to 90 miles a day on the 860-mile trip.

He said the night school course that impressed him the most was called the "science of success."

"I can personally say that the course I had in self-confidence has done me a lot of good," Trent said. "When I got about halfway up some of those steep hills on my bike I thought I could either get off and walk the rest of the way or say to myself 'You're going to ride all the way.' I rode."

House Poised For Approval

LBJ May Sign Bill by July 4

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ending its long historic debate, the Senate is expected to pass the civil rights bill by nightfall today.

The House is poised to start action on it immediately so that it can be in President Johnson's hands by July 4.

Senate leaders said a survey showed about four hours of speeches are left and estimated this would mean final passage by 6 p.m.

All 100 senators are expected to be on hand, including ailing Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif. It was predicted that 75 or more would vote for passage.

"I'm hoping for 77 or 78," said Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager.

The leaders obtained 71 votes to impose the debate-limiting cloture last week. But some of the 29 senators who were against cloture have announced they will be in the "aye" column today.

The House scheduled a session today so it could be ready to receive the bill back from the Senate as soon as the vote is taken.

House leaders said they even would meet Saturday if necessary should Senate action come too late.

Southern House members already have announced they will force the bill into the Rules Committee, presided over by veteran Howard W. Smith, D-Va., an opponent of the civil rights bill.

It will take a number of days to pry the bill out of that group (Continued on Page Two)

Widow, 72, Claims Flying Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Anna Hirschberg, 72, landed at the John F. Kennedy International Airport today and claimed a record of 57 hours and 52 minutes for a woman flying around the world by regularly scheduled commercial flights.

The previous record was 62 hours and 59 minutes.

Mrs. Hirschberg, a widow, said she had a total of about five hours sleep on her flight but wasn't "a bit tired or sleepy."

"Just let me eat a hot dog and I would be ready to go back around again," she said.

Mrs. Hirschberg of Lake Hopatcong, N.J., arrived here at 5:53 a.m. She had left at 8:01 p.m. Tuesday.

Priest Who Criticized Cardinal To Get New Post

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The young priest who tried to get the Pope to remove his cardinal is going on a retreat, a vacation, and to a new parish, says a chancery spokesman.

"So far as we are concerned, the case is resolved," the spokesman said.

The Rev. William H. DuBay, had written the Pope accusing the Los Angeles archbishop, James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of "gross malfeasance in office" for failing to speak out on racial matters.

Father DuBay was reportedly summoned to the chancery of the Los Angeles archdiocese Thursday—for the second time since he made his letter public at a June 11 news conference.

Since the original announcement, Father DuBay has said he could make no further statement on the matter.

After Thursday's appearance, unofficial spokesmen for the priest said apparently he would drop his drive.

One source said that Father DuBay was asked to "protest his loyalty" to Cardinal McIntyre Thursday—which would have the effect of preventing him from complaining further against the cardinal.

At his news conference earlier this month Father DuBay said: "Having been disciplined several times for speaking on the issue, I was threatened a year ago with suspension of priestly duties if I continued to preach that integration is a moral issue."

"In private Cardinal McIntyre stated that there are many valid reasons for segregation, and declared that, 'After all, white parents have a right to protect their daughters.'"

Health Plan Is Offered To Canadians

OTTAWA (AP) — A prepaid comprehensive, universal health services program for Canadians was recommended today by the Royal Commission on Health Services.

Unveiling a broad "health charter for Canadians," the seven-member commission rejected the idea of "state medicine" for Canada.

The dominant theme in the report, filed in the House of Commons, is that the federal and provincial governments must cooperate to provide the highest possible health standards for all Canadians regardless of age, condition, place of residence or ability to pay.

"That less than half of our population has some degree of reasonably adequate health insurance coverage for medical services is a matter of grave national concern," said the commission, set up three years ago under the chairmanship of Supreme Court Justice Emmett Hall.

The commission called for a federal-provincial conference within six months to work out its sweeping health program and stressed the urgency for government leadership.

The report advocated virtually free prescription drugs, fluoridation of all community water supplies, free dental care and eyeglasses for children up to 18, expansion of the hospital insurance scheme to include out-patient services and more emphasis on home care.

It called for placing mental illness in the category of any other ailment and recommended special measures to deal with drug addiction and alcoholism.

Walker Wins Libel Suit Against AP

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A Fort Worth District Court jury said today former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was libeled by Associated Press stories during the 1962 University of Mississippi race riot.

The AP immediately gave notice of appeal.

The jury, in answering questions given by the judge, said Walker should receive $500,000 for actual damages and $300,000 for exemplary or punitive damages.

Walker, who had asked $2 million in damages, claimed the AP libeled him in reporting that he "led" a group of rioters on the University of Mississippi campus during the period when a Negro was attempting to enter Ole Miss as a student.

Topless Swim Suit OK'd by Ancient Law

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Covington, Ky., is not going to have anything to do with those topless swimsuits for women, but Vancouver, Wash., may find itself in the mainstream of modern fashion because of its past.

Covington's City Commission Thursday night adopted an ordinance prohibiting the "sale and wearing of a one-piece women's bathing suit or apparel which allows the breast of the woman to be exposed."

The vote: 4 for, 0 against. The penalty: Up to three days in jail and a $500 fine.

"It never ceases to amaze me what some industry will do to make a dollar," said Commissioner Don Riesenberger, sponsor of the ordinance.

In Vancouver, however, a reporter dug up an 1880 ordinance which says: "No person shall bathe in the water of the Columbia River or any lake within the corporate limits of the said city or in any creek or slough within the city limits between the hours of 6 a.m. and 8 p.m. without having a suitable bathing suit, which shall cover the body from the waist to the knee."

Note that "waist to the knee." And, what about 8 p.m. to 6 a.m.?

The bare bosom bathing suit, as designed by Rudi Gernreich, comes somewhat above the waist, but from there to the shoulders there are only two strings—thin strings.

Stock Mart Deals Slacken

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved in a narrow range early this afternoon as trading slackened prior to the weekend.

Texas Gulf Sulphur recouped more than a point of its loss of Thursday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 308.2 with industrials up .1, rails up .1 and utilities off .2.

House Poised

if Smith balks at prompt action, and House leaders want the time to begin running as soon as possible.

The Senate has adopted more than 100 amendments to the original version passed by the House 290 to 130 on Feb. 10 but has preserved all its essential elements.

House sponsors have said they were willing to accept the Senate changes and Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., voiced confidence the bill would reach the White House before July 4.

Twenty-nine senators took the floor Thursday to make their final statements for or against the bill and, in some instances, to disclose how they would vote on passage.

The most dramatic announcement came from Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., front-running candidate for his party's presidential nomination.

He ended the speculation about his position by announcing he would reluctantly vote "no" because he felt two key sections of the bill "fly in the face of the constitution." These are the public accommodations and employment titles.

Juveniles Sentenced for Auto Theft

Three juveniles were sentenced to penal institutions today by Juvenile Judge Guy Cline for stealing three cars last week.

The youths, all residents of the Children's Home, are John Kelso, 15; Jim Strous, 16; and Bill Watkins, 17. Kelso was sentenced to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster while Strous and Watkins were committed to Mansfield State Reformatory.

After running away from the Children's Home on June 9, they stole a 1960 model car belonging to Forrest Easterday Jr., 215 1/2 N. Pickaway St. The auto was driven to Hillsboro where they were involved in a one-car accident.

They took another auto at Hillsboro and wrecked it about three miles west of Washington C. H.

THE youths admitted stealing a third car from Washington C. H. They drove the stolen vehicle to Circleville where they reportedly contacted Harry Timmons. They asked him to take them to police headquarters after confessing to the auto thefts.

The juveniles had been placed in the custody of the home after court hearings on lesser charges. All three had been granted the court's leniency for prior offenses, a court spokesman said.

Norton Barnes, probation officer, indicated today that the trio would be taken to the Juvenile Diagnostic Center, Columbus, for testing before being committed to the institutions.

CHRIST'S COMMAND TO EVANGELIZE THE WORLD AND HOW THE EARLY CHURCH OBEYED

Scripture—Matthew 28:16-20; Acts 1:6-8, 8:26-29, 35-38; Romans 1:8-16; 10:1-18.

By R. H. RAMSEY

LET US begin today's lesson with the final paragraph of the Gospel according to St. Matthew containing our Lord's staggering claim to omni-potence, His command to evangelism and His covenant with the disciples.

After the Crucifixion, the 11
disciples went to the Galilean mountain where they had first been gathered together by Jesus (Mark 3:13-19, Luke 6:12-16).
There Jesus met them and set forth His claim to omnipotence.
In view of His Resurrection,
His victory over sin, Satan, demons, disease and death, He had every right to make this statement. For God had given His risen Son a universal omni-potence so that no earthly power could thwart His purposes and, ultimately, all enemies would be subdued by Him.

With this statement as a foundation, Jesus gives the command to evangelism. Note He does not tell them just to teach what He has taught. Rather He charges them to teach converts to observe—and obey—His

In obedience to an angel's command, Philip went into the Gaza Desert, where he met an Ethiopian eunuch who was returning home after a visit to Jerusalem. Philip preached to him of Jesus and salvation.
The Ethiopian accepted Christ
as his Savior, asking to be bat-tized. Philip did so, and the Ethiopian returned home a newborn man.

In Romans 1:8-16, Paul tells the Roman Christians of his longing to journey to Rome to see them. Unable to do so, he heartens them with his own deep conviction that, for all who believed, the Gospel was indeed
the very power of God; a power which could save from sin.

In the opening part of Romans, chapter 10, Paul reiterates what he has already stated so vividly at the beginning of chapter 9: that the greatest longing of his heart is that the Jews might be saved. More and more they were turning against Him, refusing to acknowledge
His Messiahship, to gain salvation through acceptance of Him, or to believe Him the Son of teachings.

Then Jesus promises to be always with His disciples, individually and as a group, to the end of the world.

In Acts 1:6-8, we find the disciples assembled to hear Christ's instructions regarding the areas to be progressively evangelized. Strengthened by the spiritual power of Christ's covenant with them, the disciples did exactly as the Lord told them.

Until the death of Stephen, they confined their ministry to Jerusalem and Judea. Gospel
preaching began in Samaria with the ministry of Philip, followed by that of Peter and John. And, with the preaching of Paul and Barnabas, Mark, Silas and Timothy, evangelizing the uttermost parts of the earth began.

Philip's first preaching ministry, as far as we know, was in Samaria, where his efforts brought about a wonderful revival of faith. Then he turned from city-wide evangelism to individual work with one person.

A Look at the Electorate

Research Finds Average Voter Rises Up in Time of Trouble

EDITOR'S NOTE—Social researchers in kitchen interviews with thousands of Americans have found an often shocking indifference to politics, even in hot campaigns. How does a republic exist with such attitudes
by large numbers of voters?
Here's how the researchers explain it. Last of four articles.

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—
Sometime on Nov. 3, the American voter will step into a private enclosure and cast his ballot.

His political reasoning — his expectations, his hates, his dreams and his frustration—is melted down into that one act.
It has been called "a helluva way to run a country," but it works.

Looking at the American voter under a microscope, he becomes a boiling brew of fact, superstition, prejudice and fantasy. But standing back and looking at the whole man, the total electorate, he becomes the marvel of the age.

Analysts at the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research have been compiling their picture of why the American votes since 1948—with pre- and post- election interviews. They have also stood back to look at the whole man.

Politics — essentially the running of the government — appears to be only on the edge of his consciousness, the outer limits of his world, a low mark on the priority list of personal affairs.

Over half of the voters—the interviewers found — live their lives without becoming involved in party politics to any great extent.

There are some who will decry this—shame them for their ignorance and disinterest, said Prof. Angus Campbell, who heads the SRC.

In a sense, these voters have abdicated their responsibility—but in another sense they have not.

In an earlier, simpler day, everybody could be an expert in public affairs, Campbell said.
But today politics has become complex and has more competition with other arenas of life.

You can't be informed about anything without cost. As public affairs have become more complicated — probing space, nuclear energy, medicare—the cost goes up.

Finally when so many things go on that the voter can't understand, he is forced to delegate responsibilities.

And at times, it becomes quite difficult to see the voter's mind. On Medicare, for example, "I doubt very much if

10 per cent of the voters have an active interest in it," Campbell said. "Yet if you ask them, they will say, 'Yes.'"

For many voters the picture is the instinctive one.

"By and large, the thing that people do react to is some sense that things are not going well—
that the economy is going badly, or that foreign events are going badly, or that there is corruption or dishonesty in government," Campbell said.

In fact the voter seems to have a stockholder-management idea of the whole thing. If the management seems to be doing its job honestly, if things are going well, the voter is apparently satisfied and votes to keep the management in, or abstains from voting.

If things are going badly, he votes the old management out.
The campaign often is pictured as a sort of college debate, in which two bright men trade arguments on the issues before an intelligent, informed audience.

But the extensive interviews with the voters shows this is not the case. The debate may favor the image of one candidate over another, however. Many people cited the 1960 debates as improving the Kennedy image, for instance.

Whatever the issues were, the debates for most Americans seemed to be a clash of personalities. For some, they were even less than that.

Said one strong Democrat for Kennedy: "I just watched them for a little while. I don't even know what they were talking about. I really didn't listen very much. I'm sorry. I suppose I should—but I just don't."

And one man — embarrassed apparently after admitting to the interviewer how little he knew of the political picture—said, "If I had known you were coming, I'd have studied up."

And so it goes. From Washington, D.C., the politician sal-lies forth to debate issues, to argue philosophies, to convince and explain.

But to the American voter the deciding questions are his own political convictions or lack of convictions, his sense of the nation's course at the moment—and the personalities of the men on the ballot.

In times of calm, the voter buoys up the ship of state on the placid sea of his own indiference and apathy. But in times of trouble, the sea rises up—becomes a tide of indignation and frustration, and the politician learns who is master of the ship.

Helmsman Blames Fainting Spell

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The
helmsman of the tugboat Rebel Jr. says he fainted and apparently fell against a steering lever which drove the tug and its barges into the Lake Pont-chartrain causeway.

The barges knocked out a 224-foot section of the 24-mile long bridge Tuesday and tumbled a bus into the water, killing six of the eight persons aboard.

Clifford Milley, 26, said Wednesday in an interview from his hospital bed he must have fallen on the lever after blacking out, turning the tug on its collision course in the pre-dawn hours. He was alone in the pilot-house.

An Old Taft Warrior

By John Chamberlain

This is from the horse's mouth from a Republican pro who occupied a high place in the management of the late Senator Robert A. Taft's various campaigns. He is astounded at the behavior of every prominent Republican connected with the Presidential race, bar none.

The gist of this man's opinion is that Goldwater has made enough mistakes to blow the nomination. But everybody else has blown it right back. The competition has narrowed down to the point where errors still to be committed by the amateurs who seem to be in universal control of the Republican Party will decide the issue at San Francisco.

"I spent a lot of time behind the scenes at the Cleveland governor's convention," said this ex-manager in the Taft organization, "and I couldn't believe my eyes and ears. Nixon was the first to blow his chances there. If he wanted to oppose Goldwater openly, his cue was to come out forthrightly for himself with a plea to the governors to bet behind him on a unit basis. Goldwater couldn't have objected to anyone coming out for himself. But when Nixon tried to use Romney as his pawn, it needlessly antagonized the Goldwater forces without advancing the cause of anyone else. Obviously, Romney could not pick up the ball and run with it, for he is committed to the cause of Republicanism in Michigan for the next two years.

"Scranton himself may have played Hamlet a little too long at the conference. He had the same speech ready which he later delivered at Baltimore. But he blew cold on it himself. It's not true that Ike Eisenhower pulled the rug out from under him. He decided at the last minute that it would be good tactics to play it cool a little longer, waiting for a real call. The result is that, to veterans of the press like Jack Bell, he seemed a shilly-shallier. He can erase the impression, but meanwhile he lost some valuable days in which Goldwater supporters were busy nailing down votes at state conventions. What Scranton has got to learn is that a leader must lead.

"As for Rocky, he's just made a fantastic boo-boo in calling off his own campaign. His cue was to keep control of his New York delegation until the dramatic moment had arrived at San Francisco to release it to Scranton or Nixon or whoever. This would have had contagious impact. But in serving notice this early that he is behind Scranton, it gives the Goldwater conservatives a chance to work on New York delegates. There could be sixteen or eighteen who are legally committed to Rockefeller who may not be transferable to Scranton.

"In any case, it is a mistake for the Republican Eastern Establishment to let the field be narrowed this early to two men. This forces uncommitted delegates everywhere to choose between candidates whom they may not really favor. A delegate who, in a spread field might be for Nixon, and ready to do Nixon's bidding, may not like Scranton. Since Nixon has bowed out, a pro-Nixon delegate who distrusts Scranton has no place to turn except to Goldwater. If in the face of Goldwater's lead it is still possible to have an open convention, it would have been sounder to keep it really open.

"There's Governor Rhodes of Ohio, for instance. I happen to know that he looked with favor on Nixon's candidacy. But now he's compelled to choose between Goldwater and Scranton. There was good Nixon sentiment in Ohio. Now the boys aren't in a position to use it in bargaining.

"It's not that Goldwater has been skillful in making monkeys out of Republican liberals. His own organization has made every mistake in the book. It's a miracle that he won in California. He's let his supporters become entirely too possessive of him. For example, they are ordering news photographers around as if they owned Goldwater. This isn't good, but with everybody making terrible mistakes, it lets the front runner remain in front even though he got there by stumbling that was bad enough to lick anybody in an ordinary year.

"What's more, this isn't 1952. Then the Republicans had a hero to use in blocking Taft. Now they've concentrated at the last moment on somebody who isn't known at all well."

At this point the horse's mouth said, "You take it from there. I don't know what is going to happen."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Coin shortages in the United States and continued shortfall of world silver production in terms of consumption keep silver prices firm but still notably inflexible. The U.S. Treasury's reserve of the metal hangs over the market as a governor, even if the minting of new small coins is short of feeding the maw of more vending machines or of meeting the needs of checkout clerks at the supermarkets.

U.S. monetary authorities frown on private schemes to put out wooden nickels or paper scrip. They are also plagued by collectors of new special issues, such as the Kennedy half-dollar, or of the cartwheels that may or may not be minted again.

Some experts, looking at the world picture, predict that the supply deficit of the metal itself may be eased a bit in the next few years. But the small coin problem seems sure to hang on here.

Pressure to change the silver content of coins, or even to eliminate it altogether, is therefore likely to rise. But the chances of the market price of silver in this country either rising or falling to any marked degree is held slight. Its big 40 per cent jump from November 1961 to September 1963 is unlikely to be repeated.

The price has held steady for months at $1.293 a troy ounce. This is the actual market value of the silver in the U.S. dollar. But experts say the price would have to rise above $1.40 an ounce before it would be profitable to melt down dimes, quarters and half dollars for their silver content.

The Treasury's present reserve of silver is estimated to be enough to fulfill normal coinage requirements for about 10 to 12 years. But the big demand for the metal from electronic and other industries, and from makers of household, jewelry and art objects, seems more likely to deplete the reserve in seven to eight years. Industry can buy from the Treasury when the outside supply is depleted or too tight.

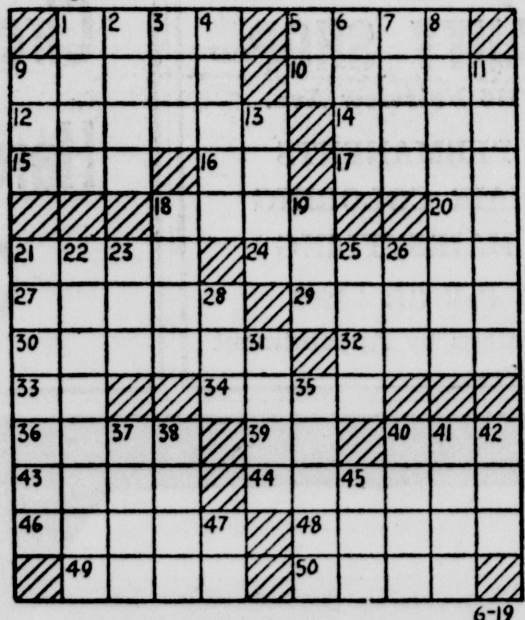

Although interlocked to a large extent, the coin shortage, the world supply tightness, and the official price changes all have their own distinct causes. This is because of the double life the metal leads here and in other lands as both a metal in private demand and as a tightly regulated government holding.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

VAUGHN MEADER, who became famous for his uncanny impersonation of the late President Kennedy, has, of course, had to revamp not only his entire act, but his personality as well. That the new act is off to a big start is a tribute to his skill and versatility. Now he conducts a seminar for pet owners in which he portrays the pipe-puffing Dr. Bow-Wow. To the typical question, "What can I do if my dog has ticks?" he answers imperturbably, "Don't wind him."

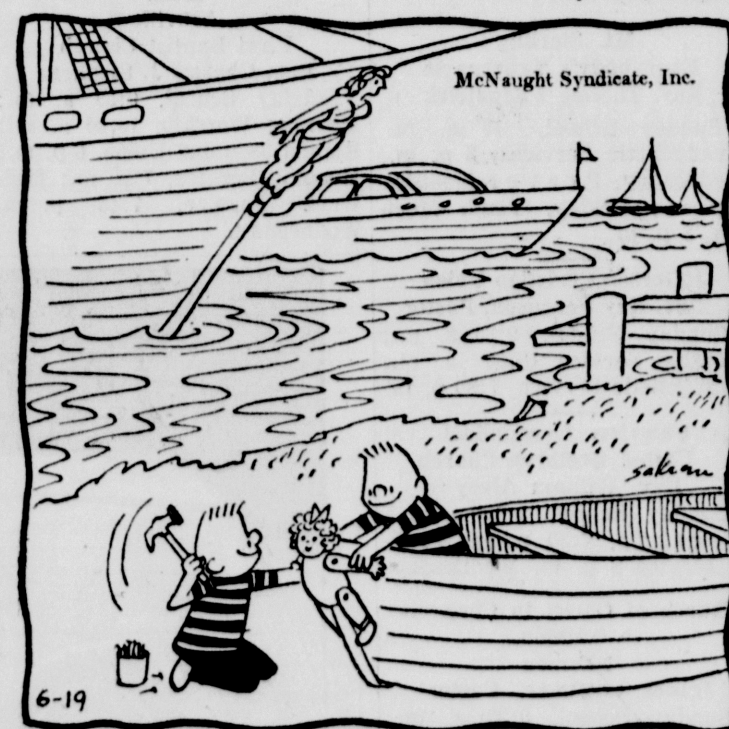

Reminiscing about his home town, Waterville, Maine, Meader observes that "It's so small, the local Howard Johnson branch has only one flavor."

Driving on one of California's jammed-up freeways, observes Matt Weinstock, you can watch a drive-in movie, follow a revolving searchlight in the sky, and wave at a blonde in a sports car—all in the same accident.

Patrick Cutting, spoofing impoverished British lords who have turned their estates into tourist traps for credulous Americans, has invented a character named Lord Grope (in his book, "Tourist Attraction"), who opens a nobby little cafeteria just outside of the prehistoric ruins of Stonehenge. The two concoctions that sell most readily there, of course, are called "Druidburgers" and "Mead-Shakers."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Q: What is the appendix?
A: The appendix is a narrow pouch that juts out of the small intestine where it joins the large intestine.

Q: Does it have a function?
A: It does not. It may have had a function during the early development of man, but today it serves no purpose.

Q: How does it become inflamed and infected, and cause appendicitis?
A: Appendicitis is caused by an infection, by bacteria, most often by streptococcus.

Q: Can appendicitis occur in all age groups?
A: Yes, but most often between the ages of 10 and 40.

Q: Are there positive symptoms of appendicitis?
A: Attacks of appendicitis are usually accompanied by fever, nausea, vomiting, and crampy pains in the lower abdomen. However, these symptoms are common to so many other intestinal disorders that only a doctor can make a definite diagnosis.

The diagnosis of appendicitis is probably one of the most difficult of all diagnoses and requires expert judgment and experience. Studies of the blood are helpful, but not in themselves conclusive evidence of appendicitis.

Q: Can appendicitis be cured by freezing the abdomen with an ice bag?
A: Sometimes the progress of an early attack of appendicitis can be stopped in this way. Under no circumstances, however, should this be done without the positive direction of a doctor.

Q: Is it safe to take enemas or laxatives with abdominal cramps?
A: No! The use of enemas and laxatives is fraught with danger in abdominal and intestinal conditions. They should never be given when there are symptoms of an intestinal disorder, unless specifically prescribed by a physician. Appendicitis can be severely complicated by the use of enemas and laxatives.

Q: Can surgery be avoided in appendicitis?
A: Sometimes it can be. But surgery is often the safest and most satisfactory form of treatment for the cure of acute appendicitis. The excellence of today's anesthesia and the competence of surgeons makes the risk of surgery far less than the risk of delay.

It is understandable that patients would prefer to avoid any operation. But appendicitis is unquestionably considered a "disease of surgery," and when the diagnosis is made and operations advised, no patient need have undue anxiety about this surgical procedure.

This is one decision that is wisely made by the doctor, not the patient.

Sex Goddess Leads Lonely Life

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The fate of the sex goddess in America often is to be sacrificed on her own altar.

They ride in lonely chariots through the mobs to their solitary doom.

Such was the fate of Marilyn Monroe, also of an earlier movie sex queen—Jean Harlow. Each wanted to be a serious actress, and was laughed at. Each found a highly paid existence as a mere sex symbol empty and unbearable.

As a youth, I used to have my teeth fixed by a friendly Kansas City dentist named Dr. Montclair Carpenter, an easy man with the drill.

He always would let up on the drill and smile with pleasure when asked how his pretty young daughter, Harlean, was doing in Hollywood. She had gone there some time before with her mother, who had divorced Dr. Carpenter to marry a man named Marino Bello. After an obscure start in pictures, Harlean Carpenter became Jean Harlow.

She became the epitome of glamor. She costarred with some of the leading actors of her day. She had a $100,000 house on a hill, a swimming pool, servants, expensive cars, a wardrobe that might stir a real queen's envy.

But behind a facade of splendor Jean Harlow led a life of gilded misery.

Just how sordid and miserable a life this beautiful star actually had is told fully for the first time in a new book "Harlow," by Irving Shulman. It is based on the long-withheld testimony of the man who knew her best—her agent, Arthur Landau.

According to this intimate biography:

Although she earned thousands of dollars weekly, she was chronically in debt, partly because she was squeezed dry by her mother and avaricious stepfather.

She was tormented by filthy letters written to her by anonymous men.

She made a bitter enemy of one studio boss because she laughed in his face when he offered her a mink coat in return for a performance that wouldn't require the presence of cameras.

As she lay dying in a coma, her mother held her virtual prisoner because the mother didn't believe in doctors or hospitals.

One of her former leading men, a man she deeply admired, put up the $25,000 for her tomb.

Jean Harlow, "the blonde bombshell," died of uremic poisoning in 1937 at the age of 26.

The industry immediately turned to the task of building a new sex goddess.

Ecclesiastical Colonialism Hit by Episcopal Bishop

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The Right Rev. Stephen F. Bayne is a 20th century cleric concerned with the ending of what he calls "ecclesiastical colonialism."

Bishop Bayne is soon to become overseas director of the Protestant Episcopal Church. When he succeeds Bishop John Bentley in November he will be responsible for the Church's 16 overseas dioceses and the 1,600 clerical and lay workers in them.

Some say he is being considered as a successor to the Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger as presiding bishop of America's 3.5 million Episcopalians.

Whatever his job, Bishop Bayne has a reputation for getting things done.

Interviewed while here on a speaking engagement, he was asked:

"When you were bishop of the Olympia, Wash., diocese the congregation there doubled in 12 years, didn't it?"

"Tripled," he corrects, "but it would have happened without me."

At the 1958 Lambeth conference of Episcopal bishops he was the architect of a report endorsing contraception as a liberating force in family planning.

Soon after the conference he was made executive officer of the Anglican Communion, the loose federation of the 18 autonomous Episcopal churches.

"The future of the Church," Bishop Bayne says, "is tied up with the ecumenical movement."

"A single Christian Church?" he muses. "Could there ever be one? Not foreseeably. What we can look forward to is the bringing together of the diverse elements."

"There are already signs of it. The Methodists, Presbyterians and Episcopalians and the rest have started consultations. Out of them may come some unities."

"The United States, of course, is the toughest nut to crack ecumenically. We like our free market religion, a church for every price class."

"But this fragmentation cannot continue. The massive social problems, like the racial question and the inner city dilemma, cannot be handled with a series of religious clubhouses. There has to be some common planning."

Bishop Bayne, a trim, bespectacled 56, had his beginnings in New York—"I was brought up as a devout kid."

Educated at Amherst, he worked for a year on Wall Street before deciding to enter the seminary. "I was ordained in the time of the depression," he says.

After a six-year stint in St. Louis, Mo., Bayne served as wartime chaplain at Columbia University.

In 1947 he was catapulted, he says, to take over the Olympia diocese.

Quartet Slated To Present Special Programs

The Gospel Crusaders Quartet from Berne, Ind., will be in charge of the 10:30 a. m. worship service Sunday at the Emanuel EUB Church, Georgia Road, followed by a concert from 2:30-4 p. m.

According to the pastor, the Rev. L. S. Metzler, the group has given concerts in various sections of Ohio and has participated in radio programs for several years.

They will also have opening services 9:30 a. m. Sunday at the Morris EUB Church, Route 56.

The public is invited to attend these services.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Correction!

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that a woman was in doubt about what to put on her mother's headstone. The mother had been married twice, and the daughter wanted to use only her mother's FIRST husband's name. You said "It's your mother, and you are paying for the monument, so go ahead and put whatever you want on it," or words to that effect. Believe it or not, Abby, in some states the name on a grave memorial is considered by the Bureau of Vital Statistics to be legal proof of death, and to use any name other than the legal name of the deceased at the time of death is illegal. So, the daughter should have her mother's headstone marked with her mother's given name, her first husband's surname, and her second husband's surname. Example: MARY SMITH JONES.

DEAR DEALER: Thank you for setting me straight. When I make a boo-boo, it's monumental! Correction: In marking a headstone, it is not daughter's choice. It's dealer's choice. And he knows what's legal, so ask him.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this so someone else won't make the same mistake I made: Five months ago a very attractive friend called me at my place of work and said he was in the process of getting a divorce, and asked if I would have coffee with him. I accepted. Next there were lunch dates. Then dinner and evening dates. He told me he loved me and I told him I loved him. (I really did.) We started making plans for "our" future. People began to talk, but I didn't care because I knew it was only a matter of time and he would be free to marry me.

Today he and his wife are back together. The man who "loved" me didn't even have the courtesy to tell me about the reconciliation. He had his WIFE call me! Please, Abby, put this in your column: "Until a man's divorce is FINAL, a woman is a fool to say more than 'hello' to him." And sign me . . .

BIGGEST FOOL

DEAR ABBY: I have a married daughter who has become very fat, sloppy and lazy. Her house is a mess and she spends all of her time reading or talking on the telephone. She shouts at her children and expects her hard-working husband to do her housework on the weekends. He is ashamed to bring anyone to the house and I am sure the children are not very proud of their home or mother. Should I have a talk with her and try to set her straight? Or does a mother's duty end after her daughter gets married?

DEAR MOTHER: A mother's "duty" ends when her children become of age. But her love and concern for their happiness and well-being continues as long as she lives. Yes, have a talk with your daughter. It would appear that she needs more than a "talk" or a reprimand. Take her to a physician for a much-needed checkup and diet.

DEAR ABBY: How can a person address an invitation to a wedding reception to make it known that only adults are wanted? Ours is going to be a catered wedding reception and we will be charged by the plate. We have a large family and don't want to feed a gang of kids. Can we put "POSITIVE-ADULTS ONLY" on the invitations?

DEAR MUST: It is considered poor taste to put "ADULTS ONLY" on an invitation. Speak with those whom you suspect might bring their children, and tell them firmly but diplomatically that the kiddies are not invited.

Artichokes Add Variety To Daily Menu

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Not every vegetable works its way into the etiquette book but artichokes rate this distinction because the how-to of eating them is a mystery to many.

When cooked and served whole, artichokes are a finger food.

Pull off the outer leaves one at a time and dip the tender, fleshy end of each in a sauce or dressing. Draw the end of the leaf through the teeth to scrape off the edible part and discard the rest.

When you get to the fuzzy center, the choke, lift it out in one piece by slipping a knife under and around it.

This leaves the heart of the artichoke, which is a rare and delicious treat.

Artichokes can be served in a variety of ways. Out in California, where they grow in abundance, they appear on the menu for every course except dessert.

Here are two unusually good artichoke recipes. To make either Artichokes Supreme or Artichoke Caesar Salad, first prepare the artichokes as follows. Wash each artichoke and cut in half. Remove chokes (thistle part).

Place artichoke halves in 1-in. boiling water and add 1/4 tsp. salt for each artichoke. Cover and boil gently 20 to 45 min., or until stems can be pierced easily with fork, adding a little more boiling water if needed.

ARTICHOKE SUPREME.

8 artichokes
1/4 c. butter or margarine
3 tbsp. flour
3/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 1/2 c. milk
1 c. cooked green peas
2 tbsp. dry sherry wine
1 (6 oz.) can broiled-in-butter mushrooms
1/2 c. grated Swiss cheese
Paprika

Prepare artichokes as directed. Cook and cool. Strip off leaves. Scrape artichoke pulp from leaves; reserve. Place artichoke bottom (or cups) in large shallow greased baking dish.

Meanwhile, melt butter in saucepan over low heat. Stir in flour, salt and pepper, then milk. Cook and stir until sauce thickens and boils 1 min.

Add green peas, dry sherry wine, the broiled-in-butter mushrooms and reserved artichoke meat.

Spoon sauce over artichoke bottoms. Sprinkle with cheese and paprika.

Bake at 350 degrees F. for 20 min. or until bubbling hot. Serves 8.

ARTICHOKE CAESAR SALAD

6 artichokes
1/2 c. olive or salad oil
1/4 c. lemon juice
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 clove garlic halved
5 c. torn romaine lettuce
4 c. torn western iceberg lettuce
1 egg, coddled
1 c. croutons
1/2 c. grated Parmesan cheese

Prepare artichokes as directed. While they're cooking, combine oil, lemon juice, crushed garlic and seasonings; pour into shallow dish.

Stand artichoke halves in dressing; chill several hours. Rub salad bowl with garlic halves.

Arrange 2 artichoke halves on each salad plate.

Lightly toss lettuce with dressing in bowl. Add egg, tossing until well-coated. Lightly mix in croutons and cheese.

Heap salad between artichoke halves.

Serves 6.

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "The Beverly Hillbillies" may be our most popular television show, but it hasn't even caused a ripple of laughter among viewers of the Philippine Islands.

The most popular program now seen on the islands' 100,000 television sets is a whodunit series called "Crisis." On NBC here it's called "Suspense Theatre." Other perennial favorites are "The Defenders," "Twilight Zone," the Walt Disney Show, "Perry Mason"—and recent feature movies released to television.

P. K. Macker, publisher of the English-language Philippines Herald and manager of three of the islands' TV stations, currently is on a $250,000 shopping trip in New York and Hollywood for at least 20 programs.

"Of course we like comedy," he said. "But most of your comedy shows are just not understood by our viewers. Funny lines about Las Vegas don't mean a thing to them. They've never seen hillbillies or even heard of them. They don't have the same political problems, suburban life or even the same kind of reading material. The result is that the comedy just isn't funny."

"I've been in the Philippines only for three years and a lot of the TV jokes are pointless for me."

He has been sampling an average of 10 programs a day during his New York visit, ranging from the serious "Profiles in Courage," based on the John F. Kennedy book, to "Peyton Place," based on a spicy best-seller.

"From the standpoint of the foreign audience, next year's product is the best I've seen," he said. "Most shows would go very well."

they do not find our comedy shows very funny do have some what similar fads. Westerns, once popular, are now beginning to lose their glamor, he said. War shows are holding up well. Michael Dann, CBS programming vice president already hard at work lining up programs for the TV season after next, believes that "the hospital show and the lawyer show have had it, and it appears that the next thing that will be popular will be a modified Western form — emphasis on character, not shooting"

3-Day California Swing Is Scheduled by Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two political speeches, three dedication ceremonies, and one military inspection tour have been scheduled for President Johnson's three-day swing through California.

The White House made public Thursday a detailed itinerary for the presidential trip, which begins Friday. It showed that Johnson will have free afternoons in San Francisco Friday and Los Angeles on Saturday—time he can use either to relax or meet with local Democratic leaders.

Johnson's first stop, at 9 a. m. Friday, will be at Edwards Air Force Base, where he will spend 55 minutes getting a secret briefing and viewing displays of military hardware.

The President then will fly to San Francisco International Airport, where he will transfer to a helicopter and fly to Concord, 30 miles east of the city, to break ground for a rapid transit system.

Returning to San Francisco airport by helicopter, Johnson will drive from the airport to the Federal Building, where he will participate in dedication ceremonies, before motoring to the Fairmont Hotel to spend the afternoon.

Johnson will attend a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner Friday night at the San Francisco Hilton Hotel.

After spending the night at the Fairmont, Johnson will fly from San Francisco airport by jet to El Torro Marine Air Base, south of Los Angeles, on Saturday morning. He will shift there to a helicopter and fly to the site of the University of California campus under construction at Irvine, where he will take part in a dedication ceremony.

The President will fly by helicopter from Irvine to the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles, where he will spend the afternoon.

In the evening, Johnson will drive to the Palladium to address another Democratic fundraising dinner. He will spend the night at the Beverly Hilton, and is expected to return to Washington sometime Sunday.

Labor Pact Forces Firm To Fold Up

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—The Woodbine Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co. here is going out of business because of its inability to meet the contract demands of a labor union, Richard Walker, treasurer of the firm, announced Thursday.

Fifty-six workers are employed by the firm, largest of its kind in the city, which operates two plants—on the east side and downtown.

Local 1, International Laundry, Dry Cleaning and Dye House Workers has been picketing the company since Tuesday in a dispute over a new contract to place one that expired May 25.

The union is asking a wage increase of five cents an hour and increased hospitalization benefits in a three year contract. The company offered an increase of three cents an hour the first year and another two cents or increased hospitalization benefits in the second year of a new contract.

A federal mediator sat in on part of the bargaining talks, which started last March.

Woodbine has been in business here since 1926.

U.N. Peacemaking Role Is Hailed by Diplomat

CLEVELAND (AP) — The United Nations has had its failures, but it can be proud of its peacemaking record in the last 19 years, says Joseph J. Sisco, deputy assistant Secretary of State for International Organization Affairs.

Sisco and other State Department officials spoke Thursday to 1,500 persons at a foreign policy discussion. The one-day program was sponsored by the Adult Education Council of Greater Cleveland, Western Reserve University and the Cleveland Press. Among other speakers were Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

'Pure' Wine Rule Curbed by Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Common Pleas Court issued a temporary restrainer Thursday against a "pure" wine labeling order issued last March by Liquor Director Don C. Cook.

The order required nine companies shipping wine into Ohio to eliminate the words "100 per cent pure" and "pure" from 21 brands on grounds their products failed to comply with state statutes governing contents.

United Vintners Inc., San Francisco, which last year shipped about 870,000 gallons of wine into Ohio, challenged the order and obtained an injunction pending disposition of its suit.

Cook said the other eight vintners complied with his labeling order.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here is the official U. S. Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

A warm front moved over Ohio Thursday night and warm, humid conditions were general over the state.

Temperatures were mostly in the 60s and 70s at dawn with readings as warm as 75 at Findlay.

The rainfall amounts were highly variable in Thursday's thundershowers, ranging from 1.85 in Cincinnati to none at Toledo and only a trace at Youngstown, Akron and Cleveland.

Rain was still falling this morning at Bellaire, but most of the state was only partly cloudy. Today was to be warm and sticky with afternoon temperatures ranging from the upper 80s into the 90s.

Afternoon and evening thundershowers again were to occur but Saturday will be dry and cooler in the central and northern counties, while showers may continue in the south.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECASTS

OHIO — Temperatures Saturday to Wednesday expected to average 2-5 degrees above normal. Representative daily normal highs and lows are Cincinnati 85-65, Columbus 85-61, Cleveland 80-58. Cooler Saturday and Sunday, warmer again Monday and then cool toward the middle of next week. Rainfall will average one-half to one inch in scattered showers to night and the south portions Saturday and period of showers early next week.

Boys State To Wind Up Meet Today

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Buckeye Boys State, the schoolboy government which springs to life here for one week each year, drew to a close today.

Completing their final reports, the 1,300 citizens of Boys State prepared for tonight's special military program and Saturday morning's graduation.

The top officials of the American Legion-sponsored government traveled to Columbus Thursday to meet their real-life counterparts.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, who visited Boys State and its youthful Gov. Gregory McKenzie earlier in the week, promised that he, his entire cabinet and other state officials will make the trip next year.

While the administrative officials and the justices of the Boys State Supreme Court visited Columbus, the state legislature and local governments continued their operations in Athens.

The Ohioans will be among the representatives of the four military academies who will present tonight's program, William McCreary of Bellaire, West Point cadet, and Cadet Maj. Lester E. Smith of Wapakoneta, from the Air Force Academy.

Low gross for nine holes was garnered by Edith Gordon and Tillie Smith, as both ladies fired 58s. Dorothy Shadley carded low net honors for the nine hole play with a 35 and Judy Eddy rolled in 16 putts in her short trip around the course.

Peggy Stallings bagged the most improved player prize when she trimmed 11 strokes off her first round play. Marge Haidet of Wilmington shot the most 6's and Helen McGuire had the most 7's. Sunnie Payne totaled the most strokes on one hole.

Betty Young and Betty Frazier won the chipping event. Prizes were awarded to the winners of each class and event.

Stalemate Develops In Newspaper Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A stalemate apparently has developed in the Columbus newspaper strike which will be 16 days old at the time further negotiations are held next Tuesday.

"The issues were explored more fully, but I can't say anyone changed his position," federal mediator George F. Bell said Thursday after the second meeting of representatives of the Dispatch Printing Co. and the printers and mailers unions.

BUSH-CHINNED actor Sterling Hayden stands solemnly in court in San Francisco to hear his sentence for participating in an auto row sit-in last March—probation and a $220 fine. He avoided risk of a jail term by pleading "no contest" to a trespass charge. Charges of disturbing the peace, unlawful assembly and refusal to disperse were dismissed by the judge.

Use of Electric Motors Recommended at Hargus

The Pickaway County Farmer and Sportsmen Assn. last night reversed an earlier recommendation when they voted to approve the use of electric trolling motors at Hargus Lake.

Dick Redman, secretary of the organization, announced the club's action will be relayed to officials of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources Division of Parks immediately.

He noted that club president Dr. W. H. Fraas had spoken to division of parks officials. They had indicated that the use of electric motors of limited size might be permitted at the local lake.

Strong opposition to the use of motors of any kind has been voiced by some local fishermen. But an equally vocal contingent of anglers favor use of the electric type.

THE CLUB will sponsor four boys at the National Rifle matches scheduled at Camp Perry, Aug. 9 through 14.

A move to add to the club house at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Rifle range was started by the club last night. Eugene (Doc) Owens and Les Garrett were named as a two-man building committee. The need for winter meeting quarters prompted the initiation of the building program.

Protector Richard Wolfrom Asked the Club to Back the Wildlife Conservation Award in the County

Those present agreed to cooperate with the Department of Natural Resources by nominating potential award winners for Pickaway County.

The local winner will receive a certificate plus a year's subscription to the Conservation Bulletin.

Club members were reminded of the 30 caliber rifle match scheduled at Camp Sherman range July 5. Guests of the club members are welcome.

Settlement Found In Aluminum Strike

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The dispute between the Aluminum Workers International Union and the Aluminum Co. of America has been resolved tentatively, pending acceptance of the proposal by union rank and file at the Massena, N.Y., plant.

The Massena workers struck over a disagreement on the work load assigned to union men and a nationwide sympathy strike of ALCOA workers had been threatened. Terms of the proposed settlement will not be disclosed until reported to the union membership. A meeting probably will be held Saturday night.

WEST GERMANY CONTRIBUTES $50,000—During a meeting at the White House in Washington, West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard (center) chats with President Lyndon Johnson after presenting a check for $50,000 as West Germany's contribution to the International Peace Corps secretariat. 200 Collegians Heading For Dixie Negro Signup

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — The first week-long program to train college students in civil rights work ended today and about 200 collegians left for Mississippi to help in a massive plan to get more Negro voters registered.

The students, most of them new to civil rights work, were trained for the "Mississippi Summer Project" and are going south at their own expense. Most of them are white and are from colleges in the north and west. They'll be living with Negro families.

Some said they are scared of going to Mississippi. "I'm apprehensive and going fully prepared for the worst," said G. D. Zimmermann, 22, Carrington, N.D.

A Prairie, Ore., girl, Karen Pate, 22, said "I feel I have something to offer and a lot to gain. Something has to be done. If not me, who?" Karen said she washed dishes in a University of Oregon dormitory cafeteria to get money for this summer.

"The injustices to the Negro in Mississippi are also an infringement upon my rights," Mario Savio, 21, gave as his reason for going. He's a student at the University of California, Berkeley.

The students spent all this week in an orientation and training program sponsored by the National Council of Churches' commission on religion and race, along with Mississippi civil rights groups united under the Council of Federated Organizations. It was held at Western College for Women.

Robert P. Moses, 29, project director, called the program—organized mainly by the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee—a "psychological invasion." He said he expected "entry of the students into the state without difficulty," but noted that a lot of opposition is shaping up against the project.

"None of the students will be asked to participate in sit-ins and no marches are planned, except for some picketing around courthouses where voters are registered," Moses said.

Moses said his group plans to have about 1,000 student volunteers in Mississippi by the end of July to help in all phases of integration. Another training school for 375 students will be held here next week.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, seeking the Republican presidential nomination, has laid down in words and deeds his views on domestic issues and problems.

What follows is put together from his statements, his book, his positions in the Senate.

Civil Right—He considered unconstitutional both the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation — while agreeing with its objectives — and any government interference in education.

But he later switched and said it's the government's job to enforce a federal court's edict on desegregation. Thursday night he announced he will vote against the civil rights bill, but said again he opposes segregation.

Government Spending — He wants it cut, contends free enterprise would provide all the jobs needed if allowed to work without government interference.

At the same time he is against monopolies by big unions or big business. But to prevent monopolies requires strong federal interference. And there is no truly free enterprise system.

There can't be so long as American business wants tariffs to protect it from foreign competition and government subsidies to help it survive. Goldwater is vague on ending such subsidies.

Federal Aid to Schools—He is particularly against it for elementary and secondary schools, has said: "The government has 'no right to educate children,' 'no child has no right to an education.'"

But the government has been aiding education in one form or another for more than 100 years. Here Goldwater pre-dates Adam Smith, patron economic saint of American conservatives. Smith said in 1776 in his book, "The Wealth of Nations," a government should help education.

Medical Care for the Aged—He's against the Kennedy-Johnson program to tie such aid to Social Security, saying it "detracts from the responsibility of the family."

Farmers—He said "we should get the farmers back on the law of supply and demand" and suggested phasing out the government's farm program over four years.

Government's Role in American Life—He would narrow it sharply, saying "The legitimate functions of government are actually conducive to freedom, maintaining internal order, keeping foreign foes at bay, administering justice, removing obstacles to the free interchange of goods." There he sounds exactly like Adam Smith.

Housing, Public Power and Urban Renewal Programs—He has said the government should withdraw from all of them.

Labor—He is for right-to-work laws, which unions oppose, but has been against the union shop, compulsory arbitration, industrywide bargaining, political activities by unions, broadening the minimum wage.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Friday, June 19, the 171st day of 1964. There are 195 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1885, Bartholdi's Statue of Liberty arrived in New York from France.

On this date
In 1819, the S.S. Savannah arrived in Liverpool, England — the first U.S. steamship to cross the Atlantic.

In 1912, the Bull Moose or Progressive party was organized.

In 1934, the National Labor Relations Board was created.

In 1942, Axis forces surrounded the Libyan stronghold of Tobruk in World War II.

In 1945, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was welcomed in New York City.

Ten years ago — The Guatemalan government announced that the invading anti-Communist rebel forces had advanced about nine miles into Guatemala from the Honduras border.

Five years ago — The Senate rejected the nomination of Lewis Strauss to be secretary of commerce.

One year ago — President John F. Kennedy asked Congress to enact extensive civil rights legislation to deal with national crisis in race relations.

Jailbreakers Accused As Mayor's Kidnapers

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Two Tennessee jailbreakers face a preliminary hearing next Thursday on federal charges of kidnaping Mayor Daniel D. McDonald of Madeira, Ohio. Madeira is a northern suburb of Cincinnati, just across the Ohio River.

The FBI filed the charges Thursday against Charles Robert Scott, 33, Chattanooga, and Larry Gene McCamish, 23, Harrison, Tenn. Agents said the pair were among six prisoners who broke out of jail at Chattanooga on June 8. McDonald says Scott and McCamish attacked him Monday afternoon and robbed him of between $55 and $70. They then drove him across the Ohio River and dumped him in a cornfield in Boone County, Ky.

By James Marlow

He proposed selling TVA to private industry, later seemed to be saying only part of it should be sold.

Social Security—He suggested putting it on a voluntary basis but didn't explain how it could survive that way. Later he said he wants to keep it and strengthen it by making the pension dollar sound.

Welfare Programs—He is particularly antagonistic to these, has said the government should withdraw from them, suggested private charity as a solution, but has been unspecific on precisely what programs should be dropped.

They include aid to needy old people, to the blind and permanently disabled, crippled children, child welfare, and programs to curb juvenile delinquency.

Taxes—He was all for eliminating the graduated income tax. Later he seemed to modify this by saying there should be a tax overhaul.

New U.S. Carrier Is Named for JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy's newest Forrestal-class aircraft carrier will be named the USS John F. Kennedy, the White House announced Thursday.

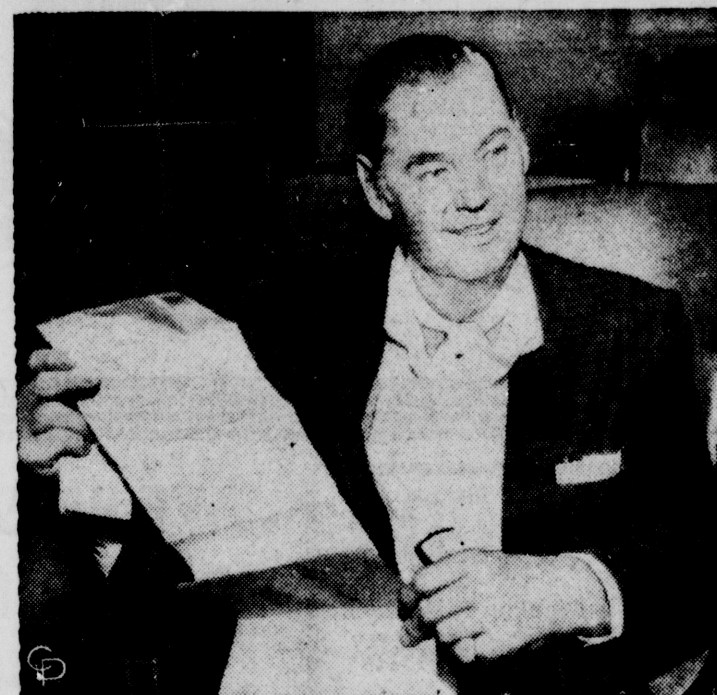

President Johnson gave his approval to naming the 80,700-ton vessel for the chief executive who was assassinated last Nov. 22.

This will be the second naval vessel named for a member of the Kennedy family. Already in service is a destroyer named for the late president's brother, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., a naval aviator killed in a bombing mission in Europe during World War II.

Ohio Retains Leadership in New Plants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Chamber of Commerce President Barton A. Holl has reported on a federal survey showing the state maintained its leadership among all states in private expenditures for job-producing new plants and equipment through 1962.

He noted, however, that two thrusts are evident which may have jeopardized Ohio's No. 1 position as the state in which manufacturers most preferred to make capital expenditures.

One of the two thrusts noted by Holl is typified by California and Texas, where heavy federal spending for defense contracts has stimulated substantial capital expenditures. The other thrust is evident in efforts of Michigan, Pennsylvania and New York to revise business tax structures to make themselves more attractive industrial locations.

The survey cited by Holl showed Ohio with a narrow margin over Pennsylvania and California, a fast-rising third.

For the Lumbermen, it was the first win of the season. They have a 1-3 season mark and the Dairy men are 1-4.

They tallied five in the first inning, were shutout in the second and then proceeded to wrap the game up in the third with a 21-run production. In the fourth and final frame they tallied four runs.

The Ankrom nine blasted 17 hits and took advantage of the 12 bases on balls issued by the Dairy men.

JIM ROUNTY paced the winners at the plate, hitting a homerun and two triples. He also scored five runs. John Ankrom had a triple as did winning pitcher Dennis Leader.

Doubles came off the bats of Jim York, Chris Payne and George Roof.

The Dairy men were held to five hits by Leader and relief hurler Charles Sistrman. None went for extra bases.

Jerry Boltenhouse was charged with the loss. He walked seven and whiffed four. He was relieved by Craig Lund who fanned three and issued five walks.

Overtrick Favored in HTA Pace

Overtrick, world champion pacer on both half-mile and five-eighths mile tracks, will lead a five horse field into the gate at Scioto Downs Friday night in the $10,262 HTA Pace.

The winner tonight will take home $5,131. Second place share of the purse will be $2,565.50. Third place will earn $1,231.44, fourth place is worth $820.96 and fifth place finish will provide the owner with $513.10.

With only five entries, every horse is assured of a share.

Other entries are Fly Byrd, Hi Lo's Solar, Amigo Star and Mr. Marion Star.

Owned by the Allwood Stable of Far Hills, New Jersey, Overtrick won the 1963 Little Brown Jug at Delaware in the record breaking time of 1:57 1-5. Two weeks ago he captured the third leg of the touring HTA pacing series at Liberty Bell Park in a dazzling 1:57 2-5.

Overtrick has posted 11 two-minute miles, has won 30 races in 44 starts, and was named the 3-year-old pacer of the year in 1963.

This year the great stallion finished out of the money in his first race, a race which Patterson wanted to tighten him up, then won the $100,000 Realization Stake at Roosevelt Raceway, followed quickly by a victory in the $50,000 International Pace at Yonkers Raceway.

He won the third leg of the HTA Pace at Liberty Bell Park in Philadelphia in 1:57 2-5, and the third leg at The Meadows in Pittsburgh in 1:59. At one stretch last year he posted five miles in 1:57 3-5, 1:57 1-5, 1:57 3-5, 1:57 4-5, and 1:57 3-5 from Aug. 27th to October 19th.

Scoring from the rail in the number one post position is Fly Byrd, a speedy son of Poplar Byrd, owned by Frank Fredricks of New York. In the 1:57 2-5 mile at Liberty Bell, Fly Byrd finished third to Overtrick and was timed in 1:58.

Hi Lo's Solar owned by James McDonald of Washington, Indiana, has all the equipment to give Overtrick and Fly Byrd a real battle, with his record of 2:00. Amigo Star and Mr. Marion Star round out the HTA field.

The meet Monday is the League Carnival at Grove City. On Thursday, the team travels to Mt. Vernon for a meet.

Mid-American Conference Gains Rare Balance under 'Uncle Davd'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The stability, balance and prestige of the Mid-American Conference stand as a monument to Dr. Dave Reese whose recent retirement ended an 18-year career as commissioner of the rugged loop.

Genial "Uncle Dave", a velvet-gloved czar, guided the league from a ragged, loosely-knit combine into a highly respected major college group which hasn't had a membership change in almost a decade.

And in his final year the Dayton Denisonian achieved a long-sought goal—league balance on the playing fields.

Every school in the conference, with the exception of Marshall, won or tied for a league championship during the 1963-64 season.

campaign — which is balance with a capital "B." And Marshall's Big Green came close a couple of times.

In three sports—tennis, baseball and golf—there were title ties. In cross country, less than 45 seconds separated the top 10 individuals, and stars from five of the seven schools won first-place medals in the conference track-field meet.

Unheralded Marshall, playing as if it didn't know how to lose, kept sneaking up on the leaders and wound up playing Ohio University for the football title on the final day—but the Bobcats won it.

The basketball crown hung in the balance until the final minute of the regular season—and still wasn't decided. A five-minute overtime was necessary before Ohio University could grab the laurels, with Miami again on the heels of the Athens champs.

Western Michigan, in swimming, was the only team able to defend with comparative ease a crown won the year before. Miami was a clear-cut victor in wrestling, but the Redskins hadn't triumphed in that sport since 1961.

Bowling Green, Western Michigan and Miami were slated to finish in that order in tennis, but after a heavy rain halted the matches for a couple of hours the Redskins could do no wrong—and the favored foes could do nothing right — and Miami came on for the only triple title tie in MAC history.

Ohio University and Western Michigan had won or shared every baseball title up to this year. Western was favored, but started slowly and couldn't catch up. The Bobcats, in mid-season, looked like world-beaters. But Kent State hung on, and then blanked the usually invincible Western Michigan team twice in a weekend series to tie Ohio for the championship. Then the Flashes defeated the Bobcats to move into the NCAA tournament.

Toledo, which never wins at golf, and Ohio U—which never loses on the links—tied for the title as five teams finished with a seven-stroke span. Miami was in the tie, too, until a score-board error disqualified one golfer and the Redskins settled for third.

The "everybody-wins - something" campaign was a fitting climax to Uncle Dave's 18-year regime, and a tribute to his untiring efforts to lift his league to the peak of balanced competition.

News of World in Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Department of Highway Safety predicted today that 23 persons will be killed on Ohio highways during the three-day Fourth of July weekend.

The forecast is the same the department made for the Memorial Day weekend but the toll for that period was held to 16.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—This is the final day for candidates from the May primary to file campaign expense and receipt reports. Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said some prodding has been necessary.

Brown said he has been calling candidates to remind them that failure to file disqualifies them from running for office for five to seven years.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Albertville, capital of North Katanga on the shores of Lake Tanganyika, is believed to have fallen to antigovernment rebels, messages reaching Leopoldville said today.

One airline pilot reported the city's airfield was thick with armed men and truckloads of rebels were reported heading toward the town from the north.

Messages from Albertville and Elisabethville said the former city's European population of about 200 was in a state of panic. A number of whites escaped from Albertville Thursday night aboard a lake steamer, these messages said.

POINT PLEASANT BEACH, N.J. (AP)—"I made a decision he shouldn't get away with any assets of my bank."

That was the comment of Paul Jones, 47, who captured a holdup man as the bandit walked out of the Ocean County National Bank with $1,051.

Jones, an auditor, grabbed the man on the sidewalk. He applied a judo hold he had learned years ago in the Navy, then steered the man back into the bank to await police.

Police arrested Walter J. Odorczyk, 49, of Trenton, and said he would be charged with violating federal bank robbery statutes.

HOBERT, Okla. (AP)—Kiowa Indian Chief Big Bow has proved to be as elusive in death as he was when he was alive.

Reburial ceremonies set for next Saturday have been postponed indefinitely because the remains, thought to have been buried on a farm near this southeastern Oklahoma town, cannot be located.

Big Bow, who died at the turn of the century at 68, was once known as the "terror of the frontier." He surrendered to military authorities in 1874 and later served as an Army scout. He was to have been reburied at Ft. Sill, Okla.

LONDON (AP) — The Labor party plans to nationalize the steel industry again and step into other sectors of the British economy if it wrests control of the government from the Conservatives in the national elections this fall.

Labor revealed some of its nationalization program during a noisy, three-hour debate in the House of Commons Thursday night after the Conservatives taunted it for silence on domestic policy.

LONDON (AP) — Moscow Radio reported that seven miners were saved today after a rescue operation in which thousands of men took part.

The broadcast said the men were trapped behind thousands of tons of rock which blocked the entrance of a tunnel they were blasting through a mountain near Bashkitan, Azerbaijan, in the Caucasus.

PANAMA (AP) — British ballerina Margot Fonteyn, encouraged by improvement in the condition of her husband, Roberto Arias, is returning to Britain this weekend.

Relatives expressed hope that Arias, who has been paralyzed from the shoulders down since a disgruntled political associate shot him June 8, will be walking again in several months. He will be taken to a rehabilitation center in England as soon as he can travel.

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Despite the Peking-Moscow feud, the Polish and Communist Chinese governments have signed a technical assistance agreement. The Polish Communists side with the Soviets in the bitter dispute which is dividing the Communist world.

Entry Try Halted by 2 Patrolmen

An attempted burglary came to a sudden halt early today when two city policemen saw two unidentified male subjects moving about at the rear of a local office.

The men were spotted near the office of the Circleville Iron and Metal Works on Clinton St. at 12:32 a. m. Officers Richard Blaney and Larry Pontious were on routine cruiser patrol at the time.

Noticing the unusual activity, the patrolmen halted their cruiser. The subjects departed in a hurry.

The policemen were forced to climb a gate to enter the yard where the men were seen. By the time they were over the barrier, the subjects had disappeared.

PONTIOUS and Blaney said the unidentified persons ran to the rear of the metal works yard and jumped a fence into the warehouse yards of Lincoln Molded Plastics.

The officers said the pair had used a four-foot bar to pry on a door at the rear of the metal firm's office. They also smashed a window next to the door. Entry was not gained.

Police Chief Robert Temple, State Highway Patrolmen and sheriff's deputies searched the entire area without success.

Davis Quits Job with City Police Force

Tom Davis, a special patrolman with the Circleville Police Department, announced his resignation from the force yesterday.

Chief Robert Temple said Davis resigned after he had been notified that his services would be terminated within 15 days. Temple said the intended termination order was based on departmental disciplinary reasons.

Davis started with the department on Aug. 19, 1963, as a special officer. He had indicated that he was going to take the civil service examination scheduled June 22 for regular patrolman status.

The resignation leaves the local department one man short. The force is now composed of the chief, three sergeants and eight patrolmen. Two of the patrolmen are special officers.

Chief Temple said the vacancy created by the departure of Davis will not be immediately filled. He said he will wait until after the civil service exam to fill the post.

Four Motorists Waive Hearings

The four motorists listed on the completed Circleville Municipal Court traffic docket this morning signed waivers of court hearings, paying the fines that were levied. They were:

Ernest J. White, 20, 209½ S. Scioto St.; $10 and costs for making unnecessary noise with a motor vehicle.

Alvin M. Hodges, 34, Roanoke, Va.; $15 and costs for speeding 65 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Ohio Family of 8 Plans Sail Boat Trip to Islands

CLEVELAND (AP) — Leo J. Elmerick is trading in his life as a chemist in Ashtabula, Ohio, to sail with his wife and six children down the Mississippi River in his boat and on to the Virgin Islands, where they'll settle.

Elmerick has no schedule for the three-to-four-month voyage and doesn't know what he'll do in the Virgin Islands.

"If I had to have a schedule, I wouldn't have bothered to leave Ashtabula," he said. "I already had a scheduled in Ashtabula."

Elmerick has degrees in mathematics and chemistry. He worked for the General Tire & Rubber Co.

The captain and his crew, 17-year-old Fred Alvarez, a friend, were repairing a chipped main-mast on the 55-year-old sailboat at the Cleveland Yachting Club. The family has sailed 56 miles on Lake Erie on its first leg of the trip.

Elmerick, 39, who grew up in the Canton area, has been thinking about his sojourn a long time.

Last year the Elmericks flew to the islands to make sure that

New View Is Added at Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS — A new dimension has been added to Niagara Falls in recent years. Visitors, who once were able to view the cataracts on land and from the water, now also can do it from the air.

Three towers, two on the Canadian side of the river and one on the United States side of the border, are stationary locations for sightseers. In addition, helicopter tours are conducted from heliports in each country.

The space-age influence has expanded the horizons for visitors, but it has not replaced the viewing points that have been favorites with generations of sightseers. Observation points in the New York state and Ontario parks permit visitors to approach within a few feet of the falls or to view the Niagara panorama from a distance.

The view from the water is from the Maid of the Mist boats which have been carrying tourists below the falls since 1885.

The New York vantage points include Prospect Point, at the northern flank of the 182-foot-high American Falls; Luna Island, between the American and Bridal Veil Falls; and Terrapin Point, at the U.S. flank of the 176-foot-high Horseshoe Falls.

In Ontario's Queen Victoria Park, visitors can approach the brink of the Horseshoe Falls at Table Rock or can stand back and admire the Niagara panorama from a host of locations.

Some two dozen different photographic possibilities exist for visitors using the cataracts as background.

HOST Cleaned

Soiled and matted Nylon Carpet

Dirt removed and texture revived by HOST DRYcleaning

Textured Carpet Cleaned Better By New Process

The style now in carpeting is light-colored, textured, looped, twisted, or sculptured deep pile. For many years the trend has been away from short yarns in dark colors. The new carpets are beautiful but cleaning is important. They lose their beauty when they become matted. Dirt is difficult to remove from the textured fibers and deep pile. Also the light colors need repeated cleanings.

A new process was needed for cleaning in the home. Through the cooperation of leading professional rug cleaners such a process has now been perfected.

It consists of a cleaning compound and an electric brush designed especially for dry-cleaning textured carpeting in the home. Not an adaptation of electric polishers or scrubbers, there's no other machine remotely like this.

It brushes the pile upward — removing deep dirt, correcting matting, and reviving texture. The compound contains millions of tiny sponges which are whisked back and forth through the nap by the electric brush. The job is completed without dust, dangerous fumes, or inflammable material. Since the carpet is not wet, room can be used instantly. This process can be used on all fibers — wool, cotton, rayon, nylon, dyne, viscose, Acrilan, Caprolan and others.

If you love the soft beautiful texture of new clean carpeting, insist on Host cleaning. Have our skilled, courteous, uniformed men do the work. Or you can save by Host cleaning it yourself. We will rent you an electric brush and supply the same compound as we use. Phone for complete information. No obligation. Satisfaction guaranteed.
